BANKERS TOLD
FREEDOM MUST HAVE DECISIVE
MORAL SUPPORT

"It we are to maintain and extend a free society amidst western civilization's mounting tensions, we must have in business, in the professions, in education, in labor, in industry and in government more 'little people' who are morally decisive," Rev. Wallace E. Fisher, pastor of Christ Lutheran church, declared Wednesday night in an address delivered at the monthly meeting of the Adams County Bankers' association in the basement of Christ church.

"Woodrow Wilson said more than half a century ago, 'It is a strenuous thing, this living the life of a free people.' His penetrating estimate is especially pertinent at this critical turn of the 20th century. History reminds us that it is a difficult task to set men free, and we learned that again in the early 1940's. History reminds us that it is harder still to keep men free, and we are learning that again in western Europe and in Japan right now."

Need Legal Guarantees

"In setting men free and keeping them free we need the sound legal guarantees that worship and speech and education and assembly and initiative will be kept free. We need these legal guarantees and their courageous interpretation, but legal guarantees in themselves are never enough. The men who live in a free society must have a strong private and public morality, a moral sensitivity and moral courage, or they will circumvent the legal guarantees and turn liberty into license."

"There is far more cynicism and pessimism among Americans today than there was in 1917, when they sought to make 'the world safe for democracy.' But there is more realism, too, and that can be a cause for hope, if it is rightly handled. There is still a strong measure of morality in our national fabric. In both parties we have some splendid men toiling to guarantee and extend the cause of political, social and economic democracy. In every community there is a substantial segment of the citizenry which guards its private and public morality jealously."

Militant Spirit Lacking

"But among that segment there is lacking a militant spirit to lift the general level of integrity; there is lacking, in force, a certain moral courage, a certain moral decisiveness. We must have thousands of men who will risk personal criticism, the loss of friendship, and the occasional loss of position, if need be, in the cause of moral decisiveness. We must rid ourselves of our easy attitude toward social and economic wrongs that do not touch us immediately, and with a sharp moral decisiveness say our strong word and do our firm deed for the right wherever we stand. There must be a fresh outburst of moral decisiveness among our stable citizenry if, to paraphrase Mr. Lincoln, our world is to have a new birth of freedom, under God."

New Oxford Men
Sued At Carlisle

Nancy E. Fryberger, of Phillipsburg, has filed a damage suit in the Cumberland county common pleas courts against Maurice Reindollar, New Oxford, and Charles H. Walker, Jr. New Oxford R. 1, to collect $20,484.50 as the result of a tractor-trailer accident near Enola on November 16, 1949.

The plaintiff in her statement of claims contended that Walker was negligent, careless and reckless in the operation of the tractor-trailer, owned by Reindollar, which crashed into her car and demolished it. She also averred that she suffered bruises and lacerations of the head and face which caused disfigurement and partial permanent disability. She asked $10,000 for disability and future suffering, $5,000 for disfigurement, $3,120 for loss of earnings, $1,700 for loss of her car, which was demolished, and for medical expenses.

TRAIN HITS CAR;
2 COUNTY MEN
SLIGHTLY HURT

Two men from Hampton, passengers in an automobile owned and operated by Frank Decker, also of Hampton, escaped with minor injuries when Decker's car collided with a Diesel engine of the Western Maryland railway at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Carlisle street. Han-ver, crossing Decker, who was driving south on Carlisle street, was not injured in the accident.

Police said Decker informed them he was following a car ahead which blocked his view of the crossing and when that automobile made a right turn into Third street he failed to see the blinker warning light or engine until he was upon the train. After the collision, the engine, operated by J. N. Hadracker, pushed the car against the curb at the corner. The passengers in the car were Harry D. Huff, 50, who received lacerations of the forehead, upper lip and chin, and King Rickrode, 49, who had lacerations of the left leg. Both were taken to the office of Dr. George P. Ard, Hanover, treated for their injuries and released.

Damage to the automobile was estimated at $150. No damage resulted to the engine drawing the train, which was traveling west at the time.

Here And There
News Collected At Random

Yesterday the Sons of Union Veterans of Pennsylvania directed their Commander-in-Chief to begin preparations for the centennial anniversary observance of the Battle of Gettysburg in 1963.

On June 9, Meigs O. Frost, 68, one of the most prominent and capable newspapermen in the country, died at his home in New Orleans. We were advised of his death by Mrs. James R. McConaghie, of Vicksburg, Miss., wife of the former Superintendent of the Gettysburg Battlefield. Mrs. McConaghie has long known of our affection for Mr. Frost.

It is ironic that Meigs should pass away a few days before the SUV took cognizance of the approaching centennial of the Battle of Gettysburg. Had he survived we feel sure that he would have been one of the first reporters to favor a fitting observance of this significant event. He was a student of the Battle of Gettysburg, despite the fact that he was a deep-rooted southerner.

We first met Meigs in September, 1935, at Amarillo, Texas, where he had gone to invite the United Confederate Veterans to Gettysburg for the last Reunion of the Blue and Gray upon the occasion of the 75th Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg.

He was tall and slender. Dark eyes that lighted up in joviality at first acquaintance seemed to exude friendliness. His hair was white, closely cropped and sparse. He invariably wore, as we learned through subsequent years, seer-sucker suits that always seemed to need pressing. He had a vast store of good yarns, which made him an exceptional conversationalist and he was good company in any gathering.

When he learned of our mission to Amarillo, Meigs jumped on the band wagon with a zest that was felt throughout the southland. He interviewed us for the better part of an hour and then pounded out a colorful (Please Turn to Page 5)

Truman Says U.S. Cannot Afford 70-Group Air Force

Washington, June 22 (AP)—President Truman said today the nation can't afford a 70-group Air Force at this time.

He made the news conference statement in commenting on a Congressional proposal to boost the air force to that strength. It now has about 48 groups.

Mr. Truman hammered on the theme that this country should buy the armed forces which are within its budget capacity. He said it doesn't make any difference how many air groups are authorized—the question is how many the budget will allow.

The President's discussion with the newsmen also ranged into the field of domestic politics, foreign affairs and other matters.

On politics, the President said sharply that if he were voting in Ohio—where Senator Taft, Republican, is running for re-election—he would vote the straight Democratic ticket as he always does. He predicted that Taft's Democratic opponent, Joseph T. Ferguson, will win.

The question of Ohio politics came up when Mr. Truman was asked about a statement by Ohio's Governor Frank Lausche that he had not decided whether he would vote for Taft or Ferguson. Lausche is a Democrat and the President was asked whether he would comment on the governor's "indecision." He said no.

On foreign affairs, Mr. Truman

COUNTY MAY BE SEPARATE
JUDICIAL UNIT

Adams county, with a population of 44,684, according to the 1950 census figures, may become a separate judicial district should the 1951 Legislature pass a reapportionment measure affecting this, and other counties.

This legislative action, if carried through, would have the effect of divorcing Fulton county from any connection with Adams, and would abolish, in all probability, the two associate judgeships here, according to a reliable authority.

The constitution provides that when a county has a population of 40,000 or more it shall constitute one judicial district and have one judge.

The constitutional provision, however, is not self-executing, but would require state legislative action to establish a separate district. While the constitution provides that an assembly, senate and judicial reapportionment should be made at the next session following each decennial census, actually, this re- (Please Turn to Page 2)

COUNTY'S PEA
CROP NORMAL;
QUALITY GOOD

With the size of the crop described as "normal" and the quality "very good," the harvest of more than 600 tons of canning peas was in full swing in Adams county this week. The price is the same as last year, $75 per ton.

Pea canning operations began last Friday at the Littlestown Canning company plant on a small scale and operations reached full swing today.

The Burgoon and Yingling plant here started its season Monday and expects to finish about June 30. The next crop for the local plant will be tomatoes which are expected to move to the cannery about August 10.

The Littlestown plant of Melvin B. Wehler will finish its pea season in about two weeks. Green beans are next on the list there with canning to start about July 10 or 15 with tomatoes coming about mid-August.

The B. F. Shriver company plant at Littlestown is not canning peas this season. Peas under contract to that company are being vined there and then taken to the company's Westminister plant for canning. The Littlestown Shriver plant will start canning operations later in the summer with corn and tomatoes.

The tomato crop's early prospects were described as good while bean harvest may be delayed slightly because plantings were late due to the wet weather.

DOG'S NOSE RINGED

Melvin E. Tressler, Gettysburg R. 4, reported today that his 3½-year-old daughter's pet dog, "Penny," came to the door of the Tressler home at noon Wednesday with a pig ring so deeply imbedded in its sensitive nose that the points of the ring touched. The ring was removed Wednesday evening by Mr. Tressler. The Tresslers said the ring was put in the dog's nose that morning.

Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Fielding Wright of Mississippi, leaders in the states rights movement of 1948, had turned down or had not received invitations to today's White House luncheon for some of the governors who would up their annual conference yesterday at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. Mr. Truman replied that they were not invited. He said he had only invited Democrats.

LOCAL BOYS IN
SOAP BOX RACE
AT HARRISBURG

Two Gettysburg boys are working diligently on two small racing cars which they will enter in one of the preliminaries of the annual Soap Box Derby. They, with their cars, will compete in an area contest to be held in Harrisburg July 6.

The boys, William Swisher, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Swisher, 106 East Middle street, and Ronald Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Collins, Baltimore street, will be entering competition for the first time. They are each 12 years old, and expect to continue soap box derby racing two more years. They will be eligible until they are 15.

Winners of the Harrisburg contest will be eligible to compete in the national race at Akron, Ohio, August 10.

The derby is sponsored by Chevrolet motor car dealers, but local entries are sponsored by Mrs. Eva M. Pape, 395 Buford avenue.

Limit On Weight

The boys expect to have their racers completed this week. They must be made according to specifications. Car and operator must not weigh more than 250 pounds. The cost, exclusive of the axles and wheels, must not run more than $6. The wheels and axles may be purchased, and cost about $12.

Since this is the first time that either boy has entered the competition, they are raising no false hopes of winning, but that is not retarding their efforts, and if they don't win this year, they still have two more years, plus the experience gained at Harrisburg to "bring home the bacon."

Both boys are members of Troop 73, Boy Scouts of America. Mr. Swisher is contemplating organizing and staging a Gettysburg Soap Box Derby next year. "We have the boys, and we have the hills," he said.

SERVICE DENIES HE AIDED REDS

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Career Diplomat John S. Service, accused by Senator McCarthy of aiding Chinese Communists, declared today that on the contrary he had done all he could to resist "the domination of China by communism."

The veteran foreign service officer was before a public session of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee which is investigating the contentions of McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican that the State Department harbors Communists and Red sympathizers.

The senators had first planned to hear him behind closed doors, but Service asked for a public hearing.

A thin wiry man, Service leaned forward in the witness chair and told the senators it just is not true that he was a "collaborator with Communists" as McCarthy charged.

He also declared that he was "innocent of the charges" placed against him in the 1945 Amerasia secret documents case.

Before Service asked for a public hearing, Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) had insisted the questioning should be behind closed doors although Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) had urged open hearings.

COUNTY MAY

The state bar association is reported working on bills to be submitted to the next Legislature in 1951 to carry out certain reapportionments.

An informed source today said that it is entirely possible that the present associate judges will be allowed to serve out their terms, however, if such a reapportionment bill is passed.

Separate District

If the Legislature acts, then Adams county must be set up as a separate judicial district. Fulton county with a population of approximately 10,000, could no longer be attached to it. However, counties with less than 40,000 population cannot be separate judicial districts but must be attached to a contiguous county or several counties with populations of less than 40,000 may be joined in convenient districts. Fulton, should a reapportionment be made, would, in all probability, become a part of Bedford county, to which it was once attached.

Serves Two Counties

Judge W. C. Sheely of Gettysburg under the present setup is president judge of both the Adams and Fulton county courts, but there the connection between the two counties ends. Adams has its own associate judges and Fulton has its associates. It maintains its own separate court machinery.

Reapportionment in the past has been somewhat of a "political football" and the cause of much "gerrymandering" for political power and control in various counties. At the present there are relatively few counties in Pennsylvania which do not have their separate judicial districts and in most cases operate with one judge and no associate judges.

Local Newspaper's Namesake Publishes Paper In W. Va.

The following article is re-printed from a recent issue of The Publishers' Auxiliary, a weekly publication of the Western Newspaper Union, Frankfort, Ky.

Clifford Star Musser, editor-owner of the Shepherdstown (W. Va.) Independent and Boonsboro (Md.) News, has been a newspaperman since he was a boy of preschool age back in Harrisburg, Pa., where he learned to set type along with his ABC's.

At the age of ten, he was the compositor of the Mt. Holly Springs (Pa.) Echo where he worked after school. At 14, he became his father's partner in publishing the paper, which they ran for seven years before selling it and going to work for the Atlantic City (N. J.) Press.

Learned Trade Here

Musser's father, Charles Edward Musser, taught him printing and publishing facts—and he even named his son Clifford Star in honor of the Gettysburg (Pa.) Star, where he learned his trade before becoming superintendent of the Mt. Holly Springs printing office.

The elder Musser was noted for his artistic job, book and catalogue work and won several national and international awards in contests conducted half a century ago by the Inland Printer.

When Clifford Musser started the Shepherdstown Independent in 1906 at the age of 28, "mule-power" was used on both job and newspaper press, he recalls, and all type was set by hand. His was the first paper to install a typesetting machine in the area.

Musser, now 72, fears he is "too old to learn a new profession" because he doesn't "know anything else."

Not Millions, But Fun

"In my job there is plenty of hard work, but lots of opportunity to serve the community, even though the possibility of becoming a millionaire is too remote to even think about," Musser says. "But there is fun in trying to better life in your little town and to aid your fellowman to a more abundant life."

And Musser has done just that through his paper, which is now in its 44th year of continuous publication.

For example, The Independent has been instrumental in providing paved sidewalks throughout town, a water and sewerage system, a railroad passenger station, a high school, better highway conditions, all-night street lighting and the best equipped post office in the country for a town of its size.

It also crusaded successfully for the abolishment of the tollgates which had kept trade away from Shepherdstown, for the direct election of U. S. senators, for women's suffrage, for a state law setting up workmen's compensation and for an amendment limiting taxes on real estate and personal property.

Interested In Sports

Man and boy, Musser has always been interested in sports both as participant and spectator, especially baseball. For many years—until shortly before his 50th birthday—he played with the championship Shepherdstown ball team (which he also managed), pitting his skill against such noted players as "Lefty" Russell, Dalton, the Brooklyn slugger who topped the league in batting for several years, and Toby, the Cincinnati star who led the pitchers in the National league for many years.

Musser's other "hobby," he says,

STARS TO ACT FOR SHRINERS

Los Angeles, June 22 (AP)—A spectacular array of Hollywood stars and an army of studio electrical wizards will see that the nation's Shriners leave Los Angeles in a true blaze of glory.

A million-dollar extravaganza of lights and luminaries tonight will close the five-day conclave which drew 135,000 visitors.

The festival, sponsored by the motion picture industry, also will serve to introduce the Shrine's new imperial potentate, Hubert M. Potteat, of Wake Forest, N. C. He succeeds Harold Lloyd, Los Angeles, who will be grand marshal and master of ceremonies at tonight's closing festival.

Such celebrities as Red Skelton, Dan Dailey, George Murphy, Dennis Morgan, Diana Lynn, Gary Cooper, Ronald Reagan, Elizabeth Scott, Eddie Bracken, Roy Rogers and Dale Evans with Trigger, Virginia Mayo, William Bendix and Marta Toren will parade and perform under the glare of uncounted kilowatts in the memorial coliseum.

George Jessel and Bill Goodwin will be masters of ceremonies for the closing festival, to be directed by Leroy Prinz.

CAN'T PAY FOR BIG AIR FORCE

Washington, June 22 (AP)—President Truman said today the country can not pay for a 70 group air force.

The President made this observation at a news conference in commenting on pending legislation in Congress to authorize that strength for the air arm.

Mr. Truman said it didn't make any difference how many air groups were authorized—that the question was how many the budget would allow.

Asked whether the country could pay for an air force that large and stay within its budget, he said the country can't pay for 70 groups.

The legislation in Congress does not say that the air force should have 70 groups. It merely sets that as the ceiling for air strength.

The actual size of the air force, under the bill, would depend in the end on how much money Congress appropriated for it.

Actually, the "group" is a highly variable and indefinite term.

It varies with the type of planes, at present ranging from 30 bombers to 75 fighters.

Penna. Polio Rate Is "Normal" So Far

Harrisburg, June 22 (AP)—The state Health Department today reported a total of 29 cases of infantile paralysis in Pennsylvania so far this year, three less than for the same period in 1949. Dr. J. Moore Campbell, deputy secretary, said the situation so far "is normal in comparison with other years." It will be impossible to determine the polio outlook in the state this year until the end of July when the rate usually takes an upturn.

Allegheny county has reported the largest number of polio cases this year with a total of nine. Northampton county is second with three and Chester county, third, with two.

Counties reporting only one case so far include Bedford, Berks, Bradford, Cambria, Clearfield, Elk, Lackawanna, Lehigh, Lycoming, Montour, Philadelphia, Schuylkill, Susquehanna, Wyoming and York.

The Texas Lunch and Elks moved ahead in the Softball league by scoring triumphs Wednesday evening before a large crowd.

In the opening game the Texas Lunch established themselves as the team to catch by nipping the Glenn L. Bream garagemen, last year's champs, 7-6. The luncheon combined some solid hitting with loose fielding by the garagemen to pile up a 5-0 lead in the first two innings and then clung to their margin despite the determined efforts of the losers. Bartholomew led the 10-hit barrage of the Luncheon with three singles while Rohrbach pounded out two of the seven hits gained by the Garagemen.

The fast stepping Elks team moved into second place by crushing the VFW team 14-5 in the second contest. Every player in the Elks' lineup collected one or more hits with Ross Sachs poling three, two of which were doubles. Buckley led his team with three safeties.

Sport Shorts

Harrisburg, June 22 (AP)—More than 120 golfers began a chase to-day after the Central Pennsylvania Men's golf championship, won last year by Harry (Billy) Haverstick, of Lancaster.

Qualifying rounds were scheduled for today and tomorrow with the first and second round matches slated for Saturday. The final will be played on Sunday. Harrisburg Country club is the scene. Chief challengers to Haverstick are Lynn Creason, Harrisburg; Sirio Startoni, Hershey; and Charles Strack, Jr., of York.

Hamburg, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Levi Harner of Bloomsburg, Pa., and two other harness race drivers were injured in a four-horse pile up during the seventh race at Buffalo Raceway last night. Harner's horse, Olympia, swerved toward the rail on a turn into the path of Handy News Boy, Aralle and Doctor Harmony.

Harner was treated for minor injuries and later discharged from Our Lady of Victory hospital at Lackawanna.

Watrous Surprises On Columbus Links

Columbus, O., June 22 (AP)—Old timer Al Watrous, in his prime 20 years ago as a Ryder Cup stalwart, has become the first surprise in the $40,000 mid-century PGA Golf championship.

The prestige meet, which enters grueling match-play tomorrow, promises to be full of them before it's all over.

Fifty-two-year-old Watrous, from Birmingham, Mich., carved a one-up-par 71 in yesterday's first qualifying round over the tortuous 7,632 yard Scioto Country club layout.

Leading the first round with 70's were a home-run hitter and a switch-hitter. Powerful Chick Harbert hammered a pair of 35's while Marty Furgol, the cross-handed putter from Albuquerque, N. M., coupled 37-33.

San Sneed, defending champion and favorite to peg his third PGA crown, was exempt from the trials. But he went around, anyway, hoping to pick up the $250 medalist prize.

The lead in the Interstate league—held most of the season by the Hagerstown Braves—may change hands in the next two days.

The Braves' margin over the runner-up Wilmingon Blue Rocks was cut to a game and a half last night as the Rocks took a 12-inning 4-3 decision. The two teams meet to-night and again tomorrow.

The third place Harrisburg Senators divided with the fifth place Allentown Cardinals. Harrisburg won the opener 4-3.

York and Trenton also split. Southpaw Joe Micchie limited York to six hits and hit a three-run triple in winning the nightcap 5-2 after York grabbed the first game 5-4.

The seventh place Sunbury Athletics dominated the cellar-dwelling Lancaster Red Roses 7-1 in a single game. Manager George Staller paced the Sunbury attack with three hits in five trips to the plate.

Tonight's schedule: Wilmingon at Hagerstown, Allentown at Harrisburg, Trenton at York, and Lancaster at Sunbury.

NATS' PAIR OF CUBAN TWIRLERS STOPS DETROIT

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Bucky Harris' new Washington rhumba team—Consuegra and Marrero—have mucho stuff on the old apple. Just ask Detroit.

The Tigers saw Sandialo Consuegra yesterday and Conrad Marrero Tuesday. They haven't seen the ball yet.

Who are Consuegra and Marrero? The red book says they both pitched for Havana in the Florida International (Class B) last year. Consuegra had a 6-5 record in 11 games. He's a slin Cuban, just under 6 feet but only 150 pounds. Marrero, a chunky fellow, had a 25-8 record for a 1.52 earned run average. Three years in a row he was the top winner in the league.

Both Regular Starters
Harris wasn't too keen on his Cuban talent during spring training. Naturally he was a little dubious about a Class B pitcher in the majors. Turned out he didn't have to worry.

Consuegra got into an argument with Owner Clark Griffith of the Senators about paying off an old Venezuela contract and went home. He was called back from Havana this month. First start he shut out Chicago. St. Louis knocked him out. Then he whipped Detroit yesterday, 12-4, with only five hits.

Marrero, like his countryman a right-hander, now is a regular starter with a 4-2 record. Half his wins are over Detroit's first-place Tigers, a three-hitter and a four-hitter.

Yanks, Detroit Lose
The two of them with a 4-2 combined record for a club that has won 25 and lost 31, are the top Latin American sports diplomats in the nation's capital.

Cleveland, moving up fast in the race, saved Detroit's hide by whipping the second-place New York Yankees, 5-1. No Cubans there. Early Wythe, an old Alabama boy, ok charge of the Yanks with a four-hitter. Only Bobby Brown's homer in the ninth robbed him of a shutout.

Billy Pierce followed up his recent one-hitter against New York with a 3-1 victory for Chicago over the Boston Red Sox. Pierce yielded seven hits but he struck out eight, getting Ted Williams twice.

National Tied Twice
Lou Brissie came to the rescue of Bob Hooper to save the Philadelphia Athletics' 4-2 margin over St. Louis. Although Brissie started Sunday and pitched nine innings Tuesday night he worked 1 1/3 hitless innings. Veteran Wally Moses drove in two of the runs off Al Widmar.

Once again the National league is all snarled up with St. Louis and Brooklyn tied for the lead. Cincinnati rallied with three in the ninth to nip Brooklyn, 6-5, while St. Louis pulled up even with the Dodgers on a rousing 14-6 romp over New York.

Manager Burt Shotton lifted starter Don Newcombe when he walked the leadoff man in the ninth although Brooklyn led, 5-3. Relief pitching failed to stop Cincy with Harry Lowrey delivering a decisive bases-loaded double.

Phils Miss Chance
St. Louis ran up the biggest score against the Giants this season to regain a piece of first place. Leo Durocher's "hunch" starter, Kirby Hage, failed to last two innings.

Pine relief pitching by Bill Werle and timely hitting in the sixth inning gave Pittsburgh a 5-3 win over Philadelphia, costing the Phils a chance to close in on the lead. Triples by Gus Bell and Ralph Kiner were the big guns in the three-run sixth. Werle relieved winner Bill MacDonald in the seventh to stamp out a threat.

Vern Bickford's five-hit pitching was wasted as Chicago blanked Boston, 3-0, behind Johnny Schmitz. Bill Serena's two-run homer in the fifth broke a 0-0 tie.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

The Utica Blue Sox today had undisputed possession of third place in the Eastern league.

The Sox whipped Elmira, 4-1, last night on the four-hit pitching of Bill Jankowski, while the Albany Senators, who had been tied for third, dropped both ends of a doubleheader to Wilkes-Barre, 4-1, and 4-2.

The twin triumph extended to nine and a half games, Wilkes-Barre's lead over second-place Binghamton. At Binghamton, the Triplets divided a pair of five-hit games with Williamsport. Binghamton copped the opener, 6-2, and dropped the second, 9-4. The Hartford Chiefs defeated last-place Scranton, 7-5.

Kump Wins Another For Lebanon Team

Ronnie Kump, former Gettysburg high school star, is fast becoming recognized as the ace of the hurling staff of the Lebanon Chix team of the North Atlantic league.

Kump hurled Lebanon to an 8-1 victory over Hazleton, the league leaders, Sunday for the Chix' only victory in a three-game series over last week-end. Kump scattered nine hits, fanned five and walked three, and was particularly efficient in the clutches. His team is in second place in the circuit.

LITTLESTOWN, OLMSTED WIN NBC CONTESTS

Littlestown and the Olmsted Air Base won decisions Wednesday evening in the district tournament of the National Baseball Congress being staged on the Littlestown field.

In the opening game of the evening the Littlestown aggregation had little trouble in defeating Nashville 14-5. The winners broke a 3-3 tie with six runs in the last of the second inning and were never threatened thereafter. Smith and Strine each collected three hits for the winners.

The best game so far in the tournament was staged in the nightcap, when the undefeated Olmsted team was forced to go four extra innings before nosing out Fairfield 3-2 with a run in the top half of the 11th inning.

Cavanaugh poled four of the 10 hits secured by Olmsted while Sites collected two of Fairfield's seven. G. Weikert, Fairfield hurler, whiffed 10 while L. Hahn of Olmsted fanned 15.

This evening Winterstown will meet Barlow at 6:15 while Hummelstown and Wenksville will clash in the second contest.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
THE ESSENTIALS

We clutter up our lives, I fear, with too many non-essentials. Many a college graduate enters practical life with a great deal of accumulated knowledge, but with few of the essentials on which success in life is founded. Willingness to work at anything, regardless of compensation, for example, just to gain experience.

A carpenter needs at least three tools—a saw, hammer and plane. Much can be done with these but as he progresses he needs any number of associated tools to make him an outstanding performer, but he must be an expert with those three tools.

In his interesting book "Lay Morals" Stevenson has this to say: "Benjamin Franklin went through life an altered man because he once paid too dearly for a penny whistle. My concern springs usually from a deeper source, to wit, from having bought a whistle when I did not want one." Most of us can appreciate that statement. We are forever buying, or acquiring, many a thing that does us no good, or which only serves to slow our progress or growth.

Ideas are among the greatest of essentials for any one's success in life, but they are useless if they are not put to test and to work. Among the essentials that go to make a great athlete are patience, control and courage. And these are as essential for any task in life. Keeping one's temper always under control is an essential that pays big dividends all through life.

One of the greatest essentials for success at any endeavor is to want to succeed. With initiative big things can be accomplished. Mistakes are common to us all, but to learn from each one enables us to make fewer and fewer ones as we go along.

To have an objective in life, and to pursue it under all circumstances, with one increasing purpose, is an essential that is sure to bring its reward, sooner or later. Another valuable essential is to early form a personal philosophy—one of patience, faith, tolerance, and leisure for maturing, as well as a belief in one's self, and the over-all goodness of God.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Neglected Great."

THOSE LIBERTY BELLS
The song of freedom from its tongue
Rang out when first the bell was rung.

And now its replica again
Sings nation-wide the glad refrain.

Today in every state is heard
The tone which our forefathers stirred,
Singing for all exultantly
The glorious song of liberty.

I took the purple rope in hand
With all the strength at my command,
And, as the old bell-ringer, tried
To crack the new bell's precious side.

Old man, thought I, who years ago
Death freedom's bell its final blow,
I wish this hour I could repeat
Your ne'er to be forgotten feat.

DOLLS ARE TOPIC FOR SPEAKER AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Approximately 60 members and guests were in attendance Wednesday evening at the June meeting of the Woman's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity held in the P. O. S. of A. hall when Miss Mary Hiltbride, Hanover, a native of Adams county, was the guest speaker. Miss Hiltbride spoke on "Dolls" and had on display a part of her collection of dolls. She started this collection while serving as a missionary to Japan from 1927 to the years of World War II, and she wrote her thesis for her master's degree on "Dolls in Education" at the George Washington university.

The speaker told her audience that "a doll is not just a toy but it represents man's connection with God. Primitive men formed small images of himself both to please and to appease God. Dolls were sacred and were treated as such. Nobody knows when the division was made between dolls for toys and dolls for worship." She also said that "every time a baby is born in the United States, about 10 dolls are born and out of every 12 dolls, only one is a boy doll."

Miss Hiltbride traced the history of dolls, showing a Chinese idol, an Indian totem pole, a Buddha from the Malayan countries, a statue of "Our Lady of Guadalupe" from Mexico, and forms of dolls. She explained the African belief of voodooism and dolls. She stated that the custom of placing a miniature bride and groom on a wedding cake is a holdover from a marriage custom of Germany. She also said that it has been stated that Napoleon planned all of his battle campaigns with toy soldiers.

Significant was a doll dressed as the first Japanese emperor, which she said was for sale during 1939 and was used as an educational agency for Japanese purposes, when they were planning to conquer the world. It carried the sword, beads and mirror of the emperor which are sacred to the Japanese.

Miss Hiltbride taught principles of the United States government and citizenship in an Americanization school in Washington during the war years, and she spoke briefly of her contacts there and had dolls from the countries of her students.

Included on the program was a piano solo by Miss Shirley Hawk, Littlestown, a graduate of Littlestown high school and at present a student at the West Chester State Teachers' college. The participants on the program were introduced by Mrs. Melvin Wehler, chairman of the program committee for the evening, which included Mrs. George I. Truman Predicts Victory In Ohio

Washington, June 22 (AP)—President Truman said today he would vote the straight Democratic ticket if he lived in Ohio. He added that he thinks Ohio without a doubt will elect a Democratic senator this fall.

Mr. Truman got into the question of Ohio politics at his news conference. He was asked about a statement by Ohio's Gov. Frank Lausche earlier this week that Lausche didn't know yet whether he would vote for Republican Senator Robert Taft or Joseph T. Ferguson, the Democratic nominee.

Lausche made the politically mystifying assertion at the annual governors conference at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. He came on here today to attend a luncheon of Democratic governors with Mr. Truman.

The President at first refused to comment on Lausche's statement.

Then he was asked what he would do if he were in Ohio. Speaking in measured terms, Mr. Truman said he would vote the straight Democratic ticket just as he always does.

News of Emmitsburg

PLAYGROUND IS OPENED MONDAY; LIONS SPONSORS

The Emmitsburg playground, taken over and improved by the Emmitsburg Lions club last year with the help of the VFW Auxiliary and the Woman's club, opened for the season this week under the full sponsorship of the Emmitsburg Lions. Mrs. Ann Charlton is the director.

Mrs. Charlton has had two years of experience in playground work in Baltimore. The playground will be open Monday through Friday each week this summer until August 18, an eight-week period. The hours for organized recreation at the playground are 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 2 to 4 p.m. The director is on duty during these hours.

Some new equipment has been purchased this year to augment facilities of last year. For younger children there are swings, see-saws, sand boxes, special games, stories, songs and other activities. For older children there are softball, volleyball, soccer, deck tennis, other team games as well as checkers, stunts, table games, art work and crafts.

One of Many Lions Projects
Features each week are a special event each Wednesday and a skill contest on Friday.

Sponsorship of the playground is one of many community projects which have been and are currently being carried on by the Emmitsburg Lions. Early last fall a horse show was conducted successfully to raise funds with which to carry on the Lions' work of aid to the blind and other community benefits. Another horse show is being arranged for this fall. Highway safety was promoted by providing highway safety programs. A Christmas party was held for the kiddies of the community; "welcome" road signs have been placed at the edges of town and the club is pushing a move for improvement of Route 15.

The Lions also are sponsors of the Emmitsburg Boy Scout troop. There have been two recent camping trips for the scouts and on Monday evening, June 26, a board of review will be conducted to examine boys for first and second class ratings.

On Sunday the Emmitsburg troop will be hosts to a group of scouts from Eldorado, Ark., who are enroute to the Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge. The Arkansas scouts will camp at Shank's mill with the local scouts serving as hosts. Plans are being made for the Emmitsburg scouts to go to Camp Roosevelt, near Washington.

IT'S DEATH, MY DARLING!

Chapter 4

Shortly after this, another man came in from the gallery. There was the flavor of horses about him—not literally, of course, but suggested subtly by his appearance and bearing. Aunt Minerva, with evident distaste, introduced him as Lewis Hays, Colonel Dumont's estate manager.

"How are the horses, Hays?" Claude called to him. "Will they be in shape for tomorrow?" He managed to put into it the condescending air of an employer addressing a servant.

Lewis Hays appeared not to notice the manner; or if he did, he didn't permit it to bother him.

"They're always in shape," he replied with good-natured confidence. "And by the way, since Colonel Dumont didn't specify who was to ride which horse, I took it upon myself to make out a list of tentative assignments."

He crossed to where Claude was standing, and the two of them became absorbed in discussion.

Just then Uncle Bountiful appeared in the doorway. His rusty frock coat had been replaced by a white linen house-jacket which made him look like a Pullman porter whose train had gone on and left him.

"Suppuh—seuse me—dinnuh is served," he recited with a sullenly apologetic glance in Aunt Minerva's direction, and withdrew again.

"Why dinner?" I asked Amedee as we followed the others across the hall to the dining room. "A special occasion of some sort?"

"No," he answered with a grin. "Aunt Minerva is convinced that only ignorant country people have dinner in the middle of the day and supper in the evening; so she's been undertaking to enlighten us."

He glanced toward his eldest cousin, who was attempting to attach himself to Bobby's other side as she and Henri were about to enter the dining room together.

"Peter, I've got to find some way to keep Henri and Claude separated until after the funeral," he said worriedly. "Claude's been making a play for Bobby all day, and Henri—well, you saw what nearly happened back there a while ago."

I nodded.

"Couldn't the four of us slip away somewhere after dinner, or would Aunt Minerva's sensibilities be shocked?"

"They probably would be, but we'll do it anyway," he replied. "When the women go back to the drawing room for coffee, you and Bobby find an excuse to wander out onto the gallery. Henri and I will meet you there with one of the cars, and we'll drive in to New Orleans for a few hours."

At the conclusion of the meal, as the women were being herded back to the drawing room I managed to fall into step beside Bobby and to acquaint her with the planned escape for the evening.

"The only trouble," I finished, "is that I can't think offhand of a good excuse for both of us to leave the drawing room."

"Why bother with an excuse," she asked practically. "Why not just go before she can stop us? You slip out while I run upstairs and get our coats. It may be a little chilly during the drive back."

It seemed an excellent suggestion. Feeling a little like a conspirator in a prison break, I took it.

Outside on the gallery, the cool air was a welcome relief from the slightly stuffy atmosphere of the house with its subtly cloying odor of funeral flowers that seeped out from the "front parlor," where Colonel Dumont's body lay in state.

After a few minutes, I heard the sound of a door opening on the left gallery; and thinking that we must have got away sooner than I had expected, I started in that direction. Then a man's voice spoke. It belonged to Uncle Raoul.

"I tell you, Jeff, it's more than just Father that lies dead in there," he was saying, and there was an unbridled bitterness in his tones that he made no effort to control. "It's the end of an era for the Dumonts. The family and the things it stands for are dying out together. Father had five sons; but what is there left? I alone have outlived him."

"There are five grandsons," Cousin Jeff pointed out. "That's enough to carry on the name."

Uncle Raoul laughed harshly. "Five grandsons," he repeated, somehow managing to make the words sound like a taunt. "Yes, and look at them!"

"Raoul, you're only dramatizing yourself, and you know it," Cousin Jeff said. "It galls you because Claude comes into the place as the eldest; and so you're mentally taking it out on the rest of them for being younger than he is. I don't like to see him and Minerva lord it around here any more than you do; but there's no way that either you or I or anyone can prevent it, so we may as well make the best of it. Besides, the boy isn't deliberately vicious; he's merely a fool."

"In Father's eyes, to be a fool was even worse than to be a villain," Uncle Raoul observed succinctly. "If he could have known . . ." He let the sentence trail away unfinished. Feeling a little ashamed of myself, I began to move away. But just then Uncle Raoul spoke again; and something in his tone made me stop.

"Jeff," he was saying, "there's something wrong here; I've felt it ever since I came. You'd been to see Father just before he died. Do you suppose it's possible that—"

"Stop it!" Cousin Jeff commanded so violently that I actually jumped. "I'm willing to listen to your dramatics about the family, because I know it's your way of letting off steam. But if you're going to start talking that sort of idiotic drivel, it's time both of us went in. Come on."

The still lighted butt of a cigar described a tiny, fiery arc as one of the two men tossed it from the gallery to the lawn beyond. Then a door opened and closed again, and all became quiet.

Chapter 5

I remained where I was, staring at the glowing cigar butt, which seemed to stare back at me like a red eye. What was it Uncle Raoul had been about to say when Cousin Jeff had interrupted him? The violence of that interruption made me almost positive that, whatever it was, he was already aware of it; but unlike Uncle Raoul, he was refusing to admit it, even to himself.

One sentence of Uncle Raoul's kept repeating itself in my mind, like a fragment of song from a photograph record when the needle gets caught in a groove: "There's something wrong here; I've felt it ever since I came." What was it that Cousin Jeff had sensed, but was refusing to acknowledge? Was it some lingering impression left on the atmosphere of the place by events already transpired, or was it a prescience of things yet to come?

Just then Bobby came out and rejoined me, and a minute later Amedee and Henri drove around with the car; so I let my contemplations of calamity, if any, go until a more suitable time.

We had intended to be gone only an hour or so at most; but something must have happened to the time—it always does when you least want it to—and so when we finally did get back, it was nearly half past twelve. But that wasn't the worst.

Not only was the house in complete darkness, but the front door had been locked!

Amedee swore in French when he discovered the locked door.

"This is some of Aunt Minerva's doing!" he exclaimed, reverting to English. "She deliberately locked the door so we'd have to ring, and she'd find out what time we came back. But there's more than one way to get in. We'll try the woodbox."

I think I've already mentioned the woodbox beside the fireplace in the back parlor. It was a huge structure, about four feet square and a little more than that in height, with a hinged drop lid. But, as I was now to learn, it also had a second opening through the wall at its back, for the purpose of filling it from outside the house. The lid to this swung outward, and could be—but was not—fastened with a hasp and padlock. It was through this that Bobby and I, with much subdued laughter, and assisted by Amedee and Henri, managed to scramble, climbing out of the box again through the opening on the drawing room side.

We stopped long enough in the inky blackness of the room to remove our slippers; then, with the aid of a flashlight which Henri had given us, we picked our way to the hall beyond. Then, just as we had almost reached the foot of the stairs, a door swung open across the hall, and a shaft of lamplight cut a swath through the darkness just in front of us!

Bobby and I stood stock still. Am-bushed!

Then a voice spoke in the room where the light was; and from its words, we could tell that the speaker had no idea of our presence. The door had merely swung open of its own accord, evidently moved by a draft from the hall.

"But you can't quit now," the voice was protesting. Although it was discreetly lowered, in the utter silence its every syllable was distinctly audible. It belonged to Lee Dumont. "You've got to give us a chance to recover part of our losses, at least. That's only fair sportsmanship."

If it's possible for a voice to shrug its shoulders, the one that answered did just that.

"Somebody's got to end loser," it pointed out, indifferently. Its flat, slightly nasal tones identified it as Claude's.

"If you're the ones, that's your hard luck. I've got sense enough to stop while my luck holds." There followed the soft, swishing sound of cards being swept together.

"We've got a name down here for tinhorn sports like you." That was Beau speaking. "It's not a very nice name."

Claude merely chuckled. The chuckle had in it that maddening indifference of a man who doesn't care what another thinks of him so long as he has that other at his mercy. Then one of them must have noticed the partly open door, for the next minute it was hastily closed.

Bobby and I continued on to our own room. Neither of us commented upon what we had overheard. We undressed silently and crept into bed.

Just as I was dropping off to sleep, a strange sound filtered through my dulled consciousness. It

PLCB'S CLAIM ON TAPROOM TV APPEALED AGAIN

Harrisburg, June 22 (AP)—The Liquor Control Board's claim for $250,000 to $500,000 in delinquent amusement taxes from taprooms operating television sets headed for the U. S. Supreme Court today.

In another step in a three-year controversy the state Supreme Court yesterday ordered the board to stop attempting to collect the tax to give liquor dealers a chance to take their case to the nation's highest court.

Chief Justice James B. Drew issued the stop order to the board at Pittsburgh, dated it to expire on July 11. By that date the U. S. Supreme Court is expected to decide whether it will accept for review an appeal by the Philadelphia Retail Liquor Dealers association against the fees.

Courts Favor Board

The controversy started three years ago when the board ruled that taproom owners should pay an amusement fee, in addition to their liquor license, for operating television sets in their establishments.

The amusement fees, ranging from $25 to $120, are graded on the basis of one-fifth of the cost of a liquor or beer license.

The dealers appealed twice to the courts on the issue and lost both times, first in the Dauphin county court, then in the state Supreme Court. Now they want the U. S. Supreme Court to pass on the case.

Push Second Appeal

Meantime, the 1949 Legislature barred the board from imposing the amusement fee on liquor retailers operating television sets, but failed to grant a similar exemption to holders of beer licenses only. Consequently, involved in the litigation are amusement fees imposed on liquor retailers in 1947-49 and on beer retailers to date.

The courts, on the liquor dealers' first appeal, upheld the constitutionality of the amusement fee itself. In the second appeal, the dealers attacked the fee as excessive. Again both the Dauphin county court and the state Supreme Court upheld the board.

It is the second appeal, which the dealers seek to present to the U. S. Supreme Court. They contend the fee violates the "due process" clause of the U. S. Constitution, which prohibits confiscation of property.

KELLER QUILTS $8,400 POST AT WHITE HILL

Harrisburg, June 22 (AP)—The Rev. Eugene S. Keller has resigned from his $8,400 a year post as superintendent of the White Hill Industrial School for Boys, located in Cumberland county near here.

Dauphin County Judge Robert E. Woodside, head of the White Hill board, said that despite a long investigation of the school by the state Welfare Department, Keller had not been requested to resign.

Judge Woodside said the resignation was accepted "with the regrets of the board and an expression of appreciation for the conscientious service rendered by the superintendent" during the seven years he headed the institution.

Keller, who had held the post since July, 1943, said in a letter to the board of trustees that he was "overburdened" by crowded conditions at the school.

"I can no longer carry these responsibilities nor suffer the criticism entailed in the superintendency," he said in his letter.

The resignation is effective July 1. Keller said that after a 60-day vacation he would take up "another position tendered me with the Welfare Department." He did not say what the job would be. And the Welfare Department offered no comment.

Keller is a native of Hanover and had a varied career before heading the correction institution housing some 1500 boys. He served with the army in World War One and later attended Susquehanna university and seminary. He first served as chaplain at White Hill.

Reports on the investigation conducted at White Hill remain in the custody of the Welfare Department.

Two years ago, Keller was told by the department not to use inmate labor on his own farm adjoining the institution. At the time, he said

Myers voted with the majority as the Senate approved a House-Senate conference report on extending Federal rent controls. Martin voted against the report. Both, however, joined in helping eliminate a racial segregation amendment from the draft act extension.

MAYOR RENEWS PEACEMAKING EFFORTS TODAY

Pittsburgh, June 21 (AP)—Mayor David L. Lawrence renewed his efforts as a peacemaker today in the milk strike which has choked off all but emergency supplies to 2,300,000 residents of western Pennsylvania.

As the strike of 3,250 AFL members rolled into its 14th day without sign of a break, Lawrence summoned union and management to his office for another try at reaching agreement on a new contract (12:30 a.m. EST).

Lawrence, who had been hopeful a settlement was in sight, was a picture of despair after a long negotiating session broke up in his office last night. He commented wearily: "I can only say that I hope both sides start to think of the people who are suffering from this terrible strike."

Neither Giving Ground
Shut-cleaved representatives of the 67 strike dairies had no comment.

Harry Tevis, president of Local 205, AFL Milk and Ice Cream Drivers and Salesmen and Dairy Employees, said: "We achieved nothing at all—nothing at all. But we'll keep on negotiating."

Both sides have given a little ground since the strike began over renewal of a contract to replace the one which expired last May 1.

The big issue is retroactivity. The dealers refuse to give back pay to May 1. The union insists on retroactivity to that date.

The industry is offering drivers a guarantee of $11.50 a day. They got $10 under the old contract. The union originally asked this be hiked to $13.50.

State Police On Patrol

The union also demands a reduction in the 48-hour week for inside workers. It wants a 40-hour week with no loss in pay. The dealers offer a 44-hour week with no change in pay rates.

Meanwhile, state police are patrolling highways of western Pennsylvania to keep down violence. The little trouble that has been reported resulted when pickets dumped milk being hauled by independent truckers.

Emergency milk shipments for hospitals and other institutions have been permitted by the union. And in Pittsburgh, thousands of persons who have been certified by physicians are receiving emergency deliveries.

Senate To Probe Election Expenses

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) said today Senate investigators will check numerous complaints of "alleged huge expenditures" in at least four senatorial primary races.

He said the complaints involve campaigns in North Carolina, Florida, Pennsylvania and Illinois, and other undesignated states.

Gillette is chairman of the Senate subcommittee on privileges and elections, which has the duty of policing this year's election of 36 Senators.

In a statement, Gillette said his

OPPOSE HEALTH INSURANCE PLAN

Bradford, Pa., June 22 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical Association opposes any compulsory national health insurance plan.

The druggists said in a resolution adopted yesterday they are against any system of medical care "which threatens the private enterprise status of the health professions or makes it difficult for the patient to exercise a free choice of pharmacist, physician or dentist."

The association decided to "investigate the possibilities of participating in an expansion of voluntary health insurance programs to include pharmaceutical services."

Don Gillung, state director of narcotic drug control, told the druggists use of marijuana had increased in the last year in Pennsylvania although its growth in the state had been reduced.

THREE WORKERS SHOT IN STRIKE VIOLENCE TODAY

Morristown, Tenn., June 22 (AP)—Three workers were shot in new outbreak of violence at the strike-ridden American Enka Corporation plant near here today.

Joe Q. Dougherty, industrial relations director for Enka, said the men were shot as they attempted to cut across a field to report for work on the 7 a.m. shift today.

One of the men apparently was seriously hurt, Dougherty said. He reported William McGinnis shot in the leg and head. He is en route to a hospital and a definite report on his condition is not yet available.

The others wounded were listed as Victor McDaniel and James McCann. Both reportedly received only flesh wounds.

No Police There
McGinnis returned the fire before he was knocked down by shots fired by ambushers, Dougherty said.

The company spokesman said no law enforcement officers were on duty when the shooting occurred near the plant gates, about seven miles from here.

McGinnis leaped from his car and ran through the fields firing his gun when the shooting broke out shortly before the morning shift started today.

The wounding of McGinnis was the first serious injury reported in the 12-week-old strike which flared into violence when the company resumed operations late in May.

The shooting today climaxed a night of suspense during which plant workers due off at midnight were kept on, working a double shift to avoid a possible clash with 60 to 75 pickets who remained outside the plant gates throughout the night.

DULLES FINDS CAPTIVE "RED" WORLD "WEAK"

Tokyo, June 22 (AP)—John Foster Dulles said today the "captive world" of communism is too weak to seek war now with the free world.

The Republican adviser to the State Department told the American Chamber of Commerce the immediate danger to free countries is that they may be taken over from within by small, disciplined Communist minorities.

Dulles' address came amid these other rapid-fire developments involving the United States' position in troubled Asia:

(1) General MacArthur and Dulles conferred for 90 minutes. It was learned they were in virtually complete agreement on necessity for prompt American aid for Red-threatened Formosa and the need for a peace treaty for Japan.

Basin For Action
(2) MacArthur, it also was learned, was pleased with the outcome of his conference Monday with Defense Secretary Johnson and General Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff.

MacArthur advocated sending U.S. military equipment to the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa to be administered by an American military mission. He maintained that American positions on nearby Okinawa and the Philippines would be threatened if the Chinese Reds took Formosa.

(3) Johnson, accompanied by Bradley, flew to Okinawa to inspect key air bases on that battle-famed island. Johnson commented the Americans were going to stay on Okinawa "for a long time." Later he and Bradley returned to Kyoto, Japan's ancient capital, for an overnight stay. Dulles met during the afternoon with Japanese Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida after talking with other Japanese officials.

(4) Dulles told a news conference his, Johnson's and Bradley's conclusions will be pooled on their return to Washington and "I think they will form the basis for some positive action but I cannot forecast what."

Paul L. Spangler, First National bank, Gettysburg, and president of the county association, presided. The invocation was given by C. D. Kroust, cashier of the East Berlin National bank. Eighty-two persons, including the wives and guests, were present. Twelve banks were represented. The dinner was prepared and served by the Women's Guild of Christ Lutheran church.

President Spangler announced that there will be no meetings of the association during July and August.

Devereux Talks On Wake Defense

Baltimore, June 22 (AP)—Brig. Gen. James P. S. Devereux (Ret.) declared last night Wake Island's defense was handicapped by American commanders who considered "air-base trucks and the like x x x more essential than radar."

The slight, wiry figure, who commanded the Marine detachment at Wake at the start of World War II, related the events of the Japanese onslaught publicly for the first time in an address before the Maryland Volunteer Air Force reserve.

He is a candidate for the Republican nomination to Maryland's Second District seat in the House of Representatives. It is his first try at politics.

He said his purpose in discussing the Wake campaign was "to point out what happened before," and to warn that "unless we are careful, it might happen again."

Barbarians assigned to the tiny Wake Island garrison was in Pearl Harbor before the Japanese attacked December 8, 1941 (Wake Island time), he related. He explained his mission on the island was to repel minor raids. His forces were not expected to withstand a full-scale attack.

TRUMAN SNUBS TWO DEMOCRATIC GOVERNORS IN LUNCHEON CALL

Washington, June 22 (AP)—President Truman called Democratic governors to the Capital today for a private tea talk.

In what had been slated as a harmonious meeting of the state and national party leaders, a somewhat disquieting note was contributed in advance by Ohio's Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Lausche, a Democrat, said this week he hadn't made up his mind whether to vote in November for Republican Senator Taft or for Joseph T. Ferguson, the Democrat who is seeking Taft's Senate seat.

Himself a candidate for reelection, Lausche was invited to today's luncheon at the Hotel Mayflower (noon EST) along with other Democrats attending the annual Governors' conference at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Adopt Resolutions

The Ohioan, who was picked yesterday to be chairman of next year's conference, indicated prior to today's meeting that there was some doubt whether he would attend. He said it depended on whether he could fly to Washington.

Later, however, he was reported on his way to the Capital to attend the luncheon.

The selection of Lausche to head the 1951 conference was one of a number of actions taken by the governors yesterday.

They approved several resolutions—among them one acknowledging a "great debt" to Secretary of State Acheson for filling in the background of the nation's foreign policy for them.

But the governors carefully avoided passing any judgment either on Acheson's policies or on the charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that the State Department harbors Communists and their friends. Acheson had vigorously defended the department against those charges in his appearance before the conference.

Two Governors Snubbed

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said Mr. Truman's remarks to the Democratic governors would be both off-the-record and off-the-cuff. Reporters were not invited.

Also uninvited: Governors J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and fielding Wright of Mississippi. Thurmond and Wright headed the states' rights presidential ticket which took four southern states away from Mr. Truman in 1948.

Democratic Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., who suggested the luncheon, recommended to the President

Prisoner Escapes From Barefoot Cop

Philadelphia, June 22 (AP)—Hearing a suspicious noise outside, a barefoot, pajama-clad policeman crept from his apartment early today and arrested a youth trying to break into a nearby taproom.

Patrolman Charles Gill then marched his prisoner into the apartment and put in a call for a patrol wagon.

Suddenly the youth, ignoring the pistol that Gill trained on him, heaved a chair and ran outside.

Gill raced after him, firing three shots. But the policeman's bare feet and scanty attire made further pursuit impossible. The youth escaped.

Picture Windows In Barns Foreseen

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Prof. D. C. Sprague of Pennsylvania State college for one believes the days of the frame farm house and the old red barn may be numbered.

Prof. Sprague and W. Everett Eakin, director of farm research for Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company, Toledo, Ohio, said yesterday the trend is toward farm structures equipped with big picture windows and window walls.

They made their observations in a paper prepared for a convention of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

They added farm animals should be housed in barns with picture windows because they get more benefits from such type windows than do humans.

CHINESE REDS ARE TARGET OF U.N. STRUGGLE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AF Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The cold war between the western democracies and Red Russia certainly develops some extraordinary and contradictory situations.

Take for example the current fight over the Soviet demand that the Chinese Nationalist delegation to the United Nations be thrown out and replaced by the Chinese Communists.

This is, of course, part and parcel of the cold war, and the winner of the argument in the U.N. will have achieved a major victory.

However, the British government—one of those most interested in seeing the west win the cold war—is reported preparing to take an active part in the campaign to oust the Nationalist Chinese and seat the Reds. London as far back as January served relations with her wartime ally, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, and recognized the conquering Reds in Peking.

Conflicting Attitudes

These facts are not cited in the way of criticism, but as presenting a picture of fighting fire with one hand and feeding it with the other. This attitude naturally is based on the contention that the Communists are the actual rulers of the Chinese mainland and will be universally recognized in that role eventually.

That argument may be open to some dispute. It is true that the Soviet-supported Chinese Communists have conquered the mainland militarily. Whether they also are the "rulers" is in question.

You know that old one about being able to lead a horse to water but not being able to make him drink. It's one thing to conquer half a billion Chinese, and another to make them accept dictation.

Lie Favors Reds

The campaign to oust Nationalist China from the U.N. and seat the Chinese Reds is headed by U.N. Secretary General Trygve Lie. He holds this to be a common sense means of getting Russia to end the boycott which she has inaugurated against 30 U.N. organs because of this fight.

The secretary general is going to Europe shortly and among other things will attend the U.N. Economic and Social Council conference in Geneva. The Chinese issue might be introduced there, although its logical presentation would be through the general assembly or security council at Lake Success.

Britain already has announced that she will support Red China for membership in the security council. Seven of the 11 votes of the council are needed to seat the Communists, but thus far only three—Russia, India and Yugoslavia—have supported the Peking membership bid.

The United States has announced that it won't vote for Red China but will not try to veto a majority decision. France, under attack by the Communists in French Indo-China, is withholding support.

Foresee Split

The slender backing thus far for the proposal to seat the Reds has given rise to the assertion in some

We've worked hard since that time to give you the kind of checkout service you want.

Are there enough stands to care for all our customers promptly?

Are the checkers efficient, accurate and courteous, as they should be?

If there's anything further we can do to make this final part of your shopping trip more convenient, please write to us at:

NATIONWIDE RAIL TIEUP IS SEEN BY JULY 15

Chicago, June 22 (AP)—A possible nationwide rail tieup was foreseen today as:

1) A switchmen's union set Sunday as a strike date against five big lines, and 2) two more unions become legally free to strike July 15.

The Rock Island and the Western Pacific said they would stop running Sunday if the switchmen left work.

The AFL Switchmen's Union of North America told the Rock Island, the Western Pacific, Great Northern, the Chicago Great Western, and the Denver and Rio Grande Western lines yesterday that they were turning down a Presidential board's wage and hour recommendations.

Recommendation Rejected
The board made its suggestions April 19. Since May 19, under the Railway Labor act 30 day "cooling off" period provision, the switchmen have been legally free to strike. All of the peace-making provisions of the law have been carried out.

The carriers were notified at the same time that the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors were rejecting a wage and hour recommendation by a Presidential board on June 15. They must "cool off" until July 15.

The officers of the two unions made a joint statement saying the June 15 findings an "insult" to railroaders, as well as the "most unjust, unfair, inequitable and injurious report" by the emergency board since enactment of the railway labor law.

Ready To Force Settlement
F. H. Nemitz, chief of the conductors, and W. P. Kennedy, head of the trainmen, said their unions were "ready to use economic strength, if necessary, to force a fair settlement of the issues."

The Presidential board April 19 recommended to President Truman that the switchmen be awarded a 40 hour week and an 18 cents an hour wage hike. The switchmen want a 40 hour week with the pay they now get for a 48 hour week. The fact-finders on June 15 specifically did not recommend a boost for the trainmen and conductors when they recommended a 40 hour week and 18 cents an hour to 75,000 yard employees.

The 125,000 members of the train-

Philadelphia Milk Price Rise Ordered

Harrisburg, June 22 (AP)—The price of milk goes up a penny a quart July 1 in the Philadelphia, Philadelphia suburban and Lancaster milk marketing areas.

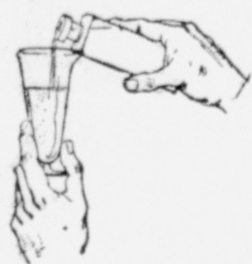

The order, posted late yesterday by the State Milk Control commission's and conductors' unions also wanted sliding scales of pay rates depending on weight of locomotives and a reduction of the basic day from the present 150 miles or 7½ hours to 100 miles or five hours.

sion also increases the producer price 20 cents a hundredweight (46½ quarts) in the Quaker City area, and 30 cents in the other two areas.

Similar price boosts are now pending for the Reading, York and Harrisburg marketing areas.

The new price order calls for a boost of from 19 to 20 cents a quart in the retail milk price in the Philadelphia area, and a corresponding producer hike from $5.04 to $5.24. For the suburban area, the price goes from 19 to 20 cents a quart retail. And from $4.89 to $5.15 for producers. The price in the Lancaster area goes from 18½ to 19½ cents a

OVER 25 HURT WHEN THEATER CEILING FALLS

Redwood City, Calif., June 22 (AP)—Between 25 and 30 persons were injured here just before midnight when the ornate ceiling over the Sequoia theater balcony collapsed.

Police said that no more than six were seriously hurt, the most serious being Mrs. Ralph Case, wife of a Redwood City physician, who fell 30 feet from the balcony to the floor below. Both legs were reported broken.

Police Officer William Goldsmith, who was in the theater at the time, said the balcony ceiling, which he estimated weighed several tons, let loose with a roar like a clap of thunder and dropped in one single sheet.

Earthquake Roar

Phil Bray, another Redwood City policeman, who was in the theater said the roar was "like an earthquake," but that there was no panic among the hundred or more persons in the balcony. The injuries all were results of the plaster drop.

Six ambulances, and a number of private automobiles took the injured to the Palo Alto and San Mateo community hospitals and to the Redwood City Emergency hospital, where the less seriously hurt were given first aid.

Besides Mrs. Case, who was accompanied to the Palo Alto hospital by her husband who was only slightly hurt, six other ambulance cases were admitted. The most seriously injured of the six others apparently were Laurine Calsy, 19, of San Mateo, and Mrs. Marian Bushard, 26, of Palo Alto, both with back injuries.

San Francisco, June 22 (AP)—Fifty-three Boy Scouts from three councils in Hawaii have arrived by air to attend the Boy Scout National Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., June 30-July 6.

Tuesday night he arrived in Littlestown to spend the remainder of the week with his parents.

On Tuesday the Girl Scouts erected pup tents at the Camp Little Day Camp in St. John's woods, near town. The older intermediate girl scouts expect to have an overnight camp there tonight. They will also have a cookout for the evening meal.

Each of the three units chose a name on Tuesday and activities for the remainder of the week will center around the name chosen. The Brownies adopted "Cowboys" as their name; the young intermediates selected "Pioneers" and the older intermediates chose "Indians." There will be a program on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. This program will be presented out-of-doors if the weather permits. In case of rain or dampness it will be presented in the parish hall.

The monthly meeting of the Girls Guild of St. Paul's Lutheran church was held Monday evening on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Bucher, near town. Their daughters Ruth and Louise Bucher, were the hostesses. A social evening was enjoyed which consisted of softball, badminton, elephant and a wiener roast. Ghost stories were told by the pastor, the Rev. David S. Kammerer, around the fire-place. The next meeting will be held Monday, July 17, with Mrs. Walter Groce as hostess.

TOBIN SAYS U.S. HAS ELIMINATED "DEPRESSIONS"

Geneva, Switzerland, June 22 (AP)—Maurice J. Tobin, United States secretary of labor, said yesterday the United States has eliminated the secret of depressions by its economic and social legislation.

"I do not believe we will ever again experience a major depression such as we had in the early thirties," Tobin told the International Labor conference.

"We are confident of our ability to avoid a major depression because of the great advances we have made in social and economic legislation since 1932. The supports we put under our economy in these years stood up in good stead in 1948."

American Bulwarks
They will be equally helpful in protecting our economy against a serious recession in the years ahead."

He mentioned as bulwarks of the American economy old-age and survivors insurance, free public employment services, unemployment insurance, insurance of bank deposits, minimum wage and hour legislation, agricultural price support, and the development of resources such as the TVA.

Tobin told the labor, industrial and government leaders gathered here that "real earnings and the standard of living of American workers is now higher than ever before, about 40 per cent above pre-war levels."

The recession of 1949, he said, was the "first significant test of the stability of the post-war American economy." He said the test had been met successfully and expressed the belief that the American economy now is able to "assure economic stability to a substantial degree."

SLAYER'S BODY FOUND IN HILLS

Bloomburg, Pa., June 22 (AP)—The search for Oscar Young ended in the mountainous section of Columbia county when the body of the 46-year-old farmer was found with a 22-caliber rifle at his feet.

Young's body was found on Monday by a search party, headed by Cpl. Leroy Foulkrod of the state police 15 hours after Lester Shaffer, 40, was shot to death in his Hoaglands Run home near Williamsport.

Mrs. Shaffer, carrying her year-old baby, walked three miles to telephone state police her husband's assailant broke a window in their three-room home and fired two shots at Shaffer as he slept.

Acting on a description furnished by Mrs. Shaffer, Bloomburg state police began a search of the area where Young lived. They found his car near the home of George Washington Hower, a relative.

Police said Hower accompanied Young to Williamsport and returned with him. Hower denied any knowledge of the slaying but was held for investigation.

After locating Young's car, Cpl. Foulkrod began a search of the area, finding the body about three miles from Hower's home.

REVOKE BRIDGES CITIZENSHIP

San Francisco, June 22 (AP)—CIO Longshore Leader Harry Bridges still has his citizenship.

The government says he obtained it fraudulently by denying he ever was a Communist. On Tuesday Federal Judge G. B. Harris signed a formal decree revoking the U. S. citizenship of the Australian-born labor leader, but his attorneys immediately filed notice of appeal. Judge Harris said Bridges' status would remain that of a citizen while the appeal is before the courts.

Bridges' appeal from his conviction of perjury, based on his Communist disavowal at the hearing which resulted in his naturalization September 17, 1945, also is pending. That appeal has held up the execution of the sentence—five years in prison.

Should revocation of his citizenship be upheld, Bridges would be subject to possible deportation proceedings.

Crooksville, O., June 22 (AP)—Damage caused by a flash flood that made hundreds jobless and temporarily homeless in six southeastern Ohio communities still was being uncovered today. Best estimates place total damage caused by the flood at more than $2,000,000 but the exact figure probably will not be known before the week is out.

Ancient Church Razed By Soviets

Berlin, June 22 (AP)—The 410-foot spire of ancient Georgienkirche (St. George's church) was wrecked with five dynamite charges on Sunday by Communist authorities who charged it was unsafe.

A symbol in the fight between church and state in Soviet territories, the steeple was blasted over the protests of church members. Bishop Otto Dibelius, primate of Germany's 14,000,000 Protestants, was one who watched grimly as workmen toiled for nearly three hours to bring down the spire.

He preached a sermon in the American section condemning the demolition plans at his church and reiterated church folk claims that the spire was safe. Then he went to the Alexander Platz, in the center of Berlin's Russian sector, to watch the dynamiting.

The war-damaged church was not in use, but church authorities said they planned to install a chapel in the tower until they could get enough funds to rebuild the church entirely.

PTC STRIKE VOTED JULY 1

Philadelphia, June 22 (AP)—Local 234, United Transport Workers (CIO), has voted a strike against the Philadelphia Transportation Co. starting at 12:01 a.m., E.D.T., July 1, the day PTC plans to put into operation a summer schedule of one-man trolley operation.

Union leaders announced the strike was voted unanimously last night at a meeting attended by 2,500 operating and maintenance workers. Police estimated about 1,000 attended the meeting. The union claims a membership of 10,500.

If it materializes, the strike would be the fourth against PTC in six years.

Michael J. Quill, TWU international president, and Andrew Kaelin, president of the local, disclosed the strike vote at news conference after the meeting, from which newsmen were barred.

Kaelin left the door open to negotiations by announcing that while preparations for the strike will be set up immediately "we stand ready to meet the management from now right up until the strike begins."

PTC has proposed to put 14 trolley

HOFFMAN SEES TENSIONS GROW IN RED NATIONS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Is the citadel of communism beginning to get shaky? Foreign Aid Administrator Paul G. Hoffman voiced the belief before the state governors' conference at White Sulphur Springs that tensions are building in Russia and her satellites. He declared that "Once the Communist world starts to crack it can disintegrate very rapidly indeed."

That isn't a new thought for this column, but it's good to get the viewpoint of a high official whose business it is to keep a finger on the pulse of communism. Mr. Hoffman holds that "the free world can win out in this battle with the Kremlin."

"I am assured by the positive knowledge that tensions do build up in a dictatorship," he told the governors. "A dictatorship is only successful when it is dynamic and expanding. Once you stop that forward movement—and that we have had some success with—the mechanism is subject to strains."

Evidence of Strain
"The very fact that Russia must hold between 12 and 15 million of its citizens in forced labor camps is striking evidence of strain. Moreover, the tensions between Russia and her satellites are being constantly taunted by the Kremlin's planned policy of helping itself to the cream of satellite production and giving back little."

"We have witnessed a dramatic break-away in the case of Yugoslavia. The story may be repeated again, and once the Communist world starts to crack it can disintegrate very rapidly indeed."

The only places where communism has had marked success are where it has been backed by military force and secret police. That is quite as true in Russia as among the satellites.

Revolutions Pile Up
Daily the evidence piles up of widespread revolution against the Red rule in such unwilling satellites as Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary. Daily refugees are fleeing into the Western countries, and thousands more would follow but for the fact that they would be leaving behind relatives who would be subject to persecution. Meantime, as Mr. Hoffman says, "we have had some success" in stopping the forward movement of communism. As a matter of fact the Red advance has been halted altogether in Europe along the front formed by the satellite countries.

Some day we may have peace based on a universal desire for it. But as things now stand peace depends on the Western nations maintaining the balance of military and industrial power which they now hold.

That may sound crude, but it's a fact which we must accept and act upon. Russia will not undertake a major war against the odds which now oppose her. Should she be able to reverse that balance the picture might change.

RADIO

New York, June 22 (AP) — It's had a "short" layoff of 496 weeks, and announces the Chamber Music society of Lower Basin street as it gives more details about its planned revival as a network program.

Off the air nearly six years, in coming back it will have the same old format, the one which presents jazz music as though it were a Metropolitan or Chicago opera broadcast. Otherwise an almost completely new cast will be on hand. Even the network will be different.

The lone survivor is announcer Gene Hamilton, who as "Dr. Gino," conducts the program with all the dignity of a classical music annotator.

The revived series will be on NBC Saturday nights at 10 in the vacation time of Judy Canova beginning
